“Moonshine, Please”

By: Cosmic Poet, KAS

On the bluffs the astronomers set up their scopes,
 With the clouds in the sky, dashing their hopes.
 And the water was coming, the sprinkle in time.

Soon we were lovin'
 What was made in a confection oven.
 Thank you, Elizabeth, for a burger and fries.

Get out of the water?
 Get on the water.
 Step on it!

It was a dark and cloudy night
 ‘Ere the blood moon came into sight.
 Umbral and penumbral , and then the shine.

When we got home and the moon was high,
 It shone on the ice crystals in the clouds
 in the sky.
 It gave us a halo that said, “Good night!”
